

Tykes and Teens Is Now Accepting Cryptocurrency Donations

September 28, 2021

This new funding mechanism offers donors more ways to support the Tykes and Teens mission.

Palm City —October __, 2021 — Tykes and Teens, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to prioritizing children’s mental health in our families, schools and communities through prevention, education and treatment announced it is now accepting cryptocurrency donations.

“We are excited to expand our fundraising to now include cryptocurrency such as Bitcoin. Our new donation technology allows individuals and corporations yet another way to make a meaningful difference in the lives of local children and families in need” said Courtney Nientimp, Development Officer for Tykes & Teens. “The fast growing crypto community is supportive of our mission, and we’re delighted to offer them an innovative way to donate.”

“We are confident that local crypto community will continue to grow in numbers and in their generosity. We know they will appreciate the significant tax advantages associated with giving cryptocurrency over giving cash” said Nientimp.

Maybe a statement of a major donor or maybe a United Way spokesperson.

Tykes & Teens is a 501(c) (3) public charity. It has been a leading provider of the highest quality evidence-based mental health services and programs for children and adolescents for 25 years. The agency began offering services in 1996 in Martin County with the goal of strengthening local families by ensuring that all children have access to high-quality counseling and mental health services, regardless of financial status. Since then, we have expanded services to St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee counties. Our passion and commitment is to empowering children and adolescents by developing innovative and unduplicated programs, and collaborating with community partners.
